Ken, I was very pleased with your customer service and products provided. As a business owner I enjoy being on the consumer end of things and learn from my transactions with other company's to help better my own. Your estimator was very respectful of property and made sure I understood my options. He spent a fair amount of time and wasn't overly aggressive. He asked when he could follow up and did so in a timely manner. My skylight issues were handled very professionally. I walked around the yard expecting to find lots of nails along the foundation, I actually found about five "very impressive". I was notified as promised when my inspection would be. I'm a firm believer that you get what you pay for, I would recommend your company to a friend.

Sincerely

Lance Riccioli
